COLONEL COPPOCK IN COMMAND AT PARK

Colonel Pleased With the Prospects For Palo Duro

CITIZENS INVITED

New Commander Teacher Before Joining the Army

Colonel Edward R. Coppock has taken command of the CCC camps at the Palo Duro State Park to succeed Major James A. Watson, who will return to Fort Sam Houston.

Colonel Coppock has seen active service in the United States army for 38 years, serving in the three last engagements of the army, the Spanish-American, the Mexican, and the World War. He was in the Philippines in 1911-12.

Colonel Coppock is highly interested in the Palo Duro project. He is interested in the history of this section, and geology of the canyon. Before entering the army he was a teacher, and has always taken a very great interest in the men who serve in his command.

A group of Canyon citizens, composed of Mayor C. R. Burrow, Judge S. B. Orton, Dr. J. A. Hill, T. C. Thompson, C. L. Thompson and Clyde W. Warwick called upon Colonel Coppock Sunday, offering all of the facilities of the town and College in the development of his plans for the Palo Duro. He stated that he hopes Canyon people will come out and become ac-

I BUY AT HOME

Because my interests are here.

Because the community good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because I want to see the merchandise.

Because I want to get what I want when I pay for it.

Because every dollar I spend at home works for the community in which I live.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because here I live and here I hope to die.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of town, county and state taxes.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my lodge, my church, my home.

Because when ill luck, misfortune or bereavement come, the man I buy from is here with his kindly greeting, his pocketbook, if need be.

WINTER TERM OF COURT TO MEET MONDAY

Judge Bishop Will Open Three Weeks Term Here

BUSINESS LIGHT

Grand Jury Will Start Investigation of Crime

The winter session of the district court will open next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Judge Henry S. Bishop will preside, and as the first business of the session will empanel the grand jury, which will start investigation of law violations in the county.

District Attorney Grady Hazlewood will be here with his assistant, Bob Underwood, to assist the grand jury and to handle criminal cases during the term.

District Clerk Berl E. Mayfield states that the docket for the term is light, unless indictments are returned by the grand jury and provide cases to be tried during the term. Not many civil cases of importance are upon the docket.

The term of court will continue for three weeks, and petit jurors have been summoned to serve for each of these weeks.

J. C. Dowd states that he shot his first deer last week while on a hunt at Junction with Alvin McDonald. The deer was a six point buck.

Contract Wheat Acreage

Moses said to the Children of Israel that the land should be rested every seventh year, "that the poor of thy people may eat." Now "Uncle Sam" says for us to rest about one-seventh of the wheat land and he pays us for doing it. Perhaps the wisdom of resting the land every seventh year is as sound today as it was in the time of Moses,—at any rate, let's keep the faith with "Uncle Sam" on that point.

The 15% of the wheat land contracted to the Government cannot be used for the production of feed crops unless the total acreage of the farm is so small that all the acreage not allowed to wheat is needed to produce feed for the work horses used on the farm, or, for livestock products to be used entirely in the farm home.

It would be a violation, as I understand it, to plant the contracted acreage in feed to be used at any time for feeding market livestock.

By keeping faith with "Uncle" on that point, we will keep our credit good at the place where the checks come from.

Deep listing in the winter is suggested for this contracted acreage. Listing may be a little more trouble than the ordinary plowing, but I believe that if we list deep on a part of our wheat land every year, in the winter (not summer) it will pay over a period of years. This listing should always be done across the slope.

There seems to be some confusion as to the acreage shown on the wheat allotment contracts. The first acreage figure written on page one of the contract is the minimum acreage that must be sown. The average annual acreage shown in the center of the bottom line of page one of the contract is the base acreage approved and this figure must be reduced 15%. We still have a number of farmers' copies of contracts that were left in the office for some reason or other. Those who do not have a copy of their contract should call and get it. Also it would be well to preserve a copy of the Canyon News of December 14th for further reference.

Let's rest one-seventh and use another seventh for the production of feed crops for home use and make wheat growing incidental to living on the farm rather than to make living on the farm incidental to wheat farming.

W. H. UPCHURCH,
County Agent.

Reduction Hogs 25% Starts On First of January

A hog reduction program for Randall County will be started in January. This is one of the A. A. A. activities and will be handled very much the same as the wheat contracts.

A farmer agrees to reduce his hog production 25% and gets paid for so doing.

In Randall County, where our hog population is already greatly reduced, this allotment payment will perhaps be very welcome.

A meeting of all interested farmers will be called as soon as the necessary information regarding the rules and regulations governing the execution of contracts is received.

W. H. UPCHURCH,
County Agent.

Dr. Hill Reviews Past Year at W. T.

Museum and Park Are Outstanding For Year 1933

"The completion of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum is the outstanding event of 1933 so far as the West Texas State Teachers College is concerned," said Dr. J. A. Hill, yesterday, as he reviewed the profits and losses which the year had brought. "I knew that the museum would be an educational factor of great importance to the region, but I did not realize how widely it would be used. Its influence has extended over the entire state of Texas, and its successful completion has contributed to a rapidly growing interest in the preservation of historical and other materials which will be of increasing importance in the future," said Dr. Hill.

Already more than 24,000 people have registered in the visitor's book in Pioneer Hall. Professor L. F. Sheffy, under whose direction the campaign to build this museum was successfully waged, continues to give much time to the work of collecting and arranging materials. Dr. Angie Debo has charge of the building Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday afternoons when it is open to the public, and spends many hours cataloging materials. Through her efforts teachers and many others learn what education materials come in, and how they can be used.

Palo Duro Park Great Asset

President Hill placed the creation and development of the Palo Duro State Park near the top of his list of important events in connection with the College. He stated that having the park, with the excellent road leading to the floor of the Canyon, will enable students and thousands of visitors

SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral Held Tuesday For Local Civic Leader

The community was shocked Sunday afternoon when word rapidly spread that H. A. Bryant, manager of the Texas Utilities Company, had died following an illness of only a few hours. Heart attack, with a slight case of pneumonia, was given as the cause of his death.

Mr. Bryant was taken ill Saturday, complaining with a slight attack of the flu. He went to bed hoping to be fully recovered in a few days. He was not considered to be in a serious condition until Sunday, and few realized until a few minutes before his death that his condition was alarming.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. Chas. L. Dickey, assisted by Rev. J. H. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist Church. Active pall bearers were Dr. H. A. Brown, O. W. Gano, Lee Foster, Terry Mayben, Lawrence Shuman, and Bill Smith. Honorary pall bearers were members of the Canyon Rotary Club of which the deceased was a charter member.

$178,363 IS NOW READY WHEAT FARMERS HERE

847 Checks Being Distributed in Randall County

131 MORE COMING

Farmers Asked to Get Checks During This Week

Randall county wheat farmers are receiving checks this week in the amount of $178,363, and other checks are expected soon after the first of the year. 847 checks were in the shipments which arrived Tuesday and about 130 more were held up until the contracts could be completed.

Randall county's total allotment was $317,761.92, part of which will be paid in the spring after an inspection shows that the wheat acreage of each farmer has been reduced according to contract.

The checks were distributed by W. C. Black at the First National Bank, who was designated as treasurer of the allotment committee. Roger Gist, J. P. Hix and L. T. Campbell, members of the allotment committee, assisted by Miss Louise Upchurch, are checking the contracts as the farmers come in after their money.

It is hoped that all farmers will get their checks before the end of the week.

The committee had planned their work so that the farmers might receive their checks before Christmas, but the rush of work in Washington was so great that this was not possible.

Standard Culverts on Highway East to Palo Duro Park

In this issue of the News is found an advertisement calling for bids on the bridges and culverts for the new state highway leading from Canyon to the Palo Duro State Park.

"They are going to make a real highway out there," stated Resident Engineer E. H. Gohmert, as he reviewed the plans. It was originally planned to make all culverts of iron piping and construct only two concrete bridges. However, when the specifications were received, they call for 14 concrete bridges and culverts, entirely eliminating the iron piping. This will make the highway standard in every respect.

Work was resumed Wednesday after the Christmas vacation, and all men qualified for road work are being used to rush construction. Unless there is bad weather, the caliche work should be completed in about four weeks. It will require about 60 days to put in the concrete structures.

Mrs. H. W. Bagley and daughters visited relatives in Sweetwater during the holidays.

PANHANDLE MEMBER 1933 PRESS ASSOCIATION

The nation as a whole is more optimistic than it was a year ago. Facing the uncertainty of a new Democratic administration, business leaders were wondering a year ago what course would be followed. Since March there has been a rapid parade of unusual events, which has lead to the restoration of national confidence, and a decided demand on the part of the people that the depression shall be definitely whipped, and prosperity returned. The new year 1934 holds forth many promises for a better day. The Panhandle section is not included in this greatly improved program owing to the drouth which has badly crippled any chance for immediate improvement. But even with our drouth, there is optimism on the part of the people. We are going to come out of this present difficulty stronger than ever before. Of all people on earth, Panhandle folks believe in their country, and have faith in their own ability.

Texas is finding it pretty hard to dispose of the relief bonds. A lot of folks are demanding that the banks buy the bonds, and charge that the banks are not patriotic for not making the purchase. That is a foolish charge, since the money in the banks belong to the people, who expect the banks to conserve their money in securities which may readily be converted into cash. Texas has a few outstanding old bonds, now owned by the school fund. The legislature has refused to appropriate money to pay past due interest. The default in past years on this interest is the principal reason why the financiers of the state are not interested in buying the present bonds.

Farmers of Texas who have been receiving cotton and wheat checks will be asking young Joe Bailey during the campaign next summer why it was that he fought and voted against Roosevelt's farm relief measures. Of course young Joe will say that it was because of the principles advocated so long by his distinguished father, who was upheld by the voters of Texas. Young Joe is going to rely very greatly upon the magic name of Bailey, and what he considers is the overwhelming wet sentiment of the day. He will probably be disappointed in the drawing powers of both these issues.

The Santa Claus money was a little late in arriving in Randall county, but so far no one has rejected the checks because of the late arrival. The money will be of great use to the farmers in starting the New Year.

Every Randall county citizen should resolve to trade at home during 1934 so far as possible. Fully 75% of the merchandise which is bought away from home could be secured in Canyon at a lower price than is paid away from here. Those who make their living in Randall county build up their own property values when they trade with their home merchants. Let's trade at home during 1934, and see what wonderful results will be obtained.

A Happy New Year to one and all. May the people of Randall county embark upon the New Year of 1934 to do their dead level best to make this the best county in Texas.

Dollars are said to be getting cheaper, but in these parts they are as scarce as ever.

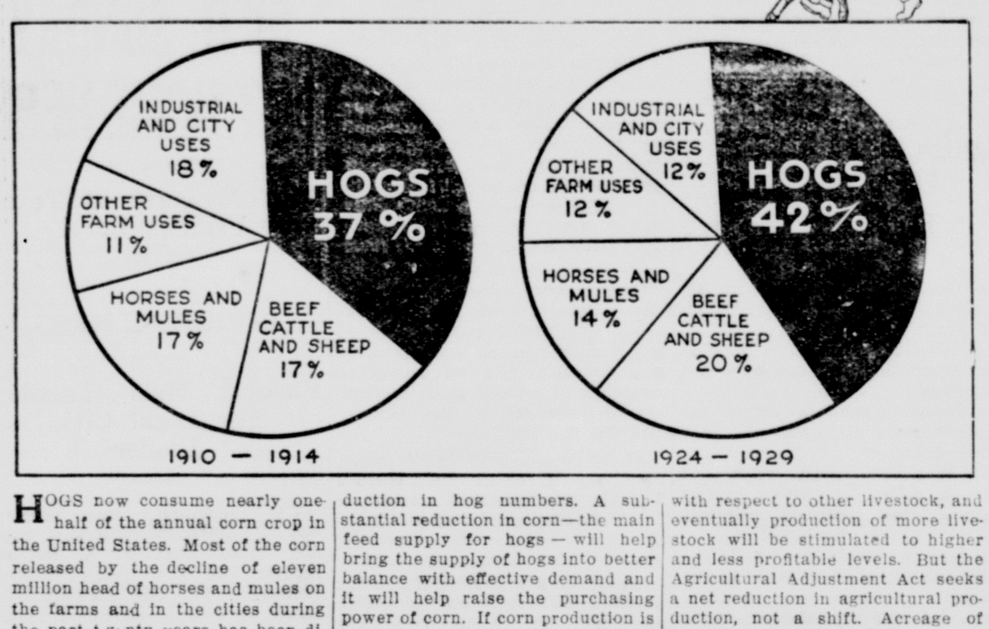
HOG production in the United States has increased at about the same rate as our population, but the quantity of hog products available for home consumption has increased materially because of a severe decline in our exports since the World War. The American people recently have been eating around 14 percent more pork and lard than they did in the pre-war period, and they are now eating a higher percent of the total production of hogs than 20 years ago. However, this excess of hog products in the home market has depressed hog prices. The recent increased consumption is a reflection of the comparatively low prices at which the pork had to move, rather than of any substantial pick-up in consumer requirements or preference for hog products. A more moderate hog production would eliminate the excess on the home market and would result in a higher price per hundredweight and a larger tota. return from the whole hog crop. This the corn-hog plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration seeks to bring about by adjusting production to present-day needs.



HOGS now consume nearly one-half of the annual corn crop in the United States. Most of the corn released by the decline of eleven million head of horses and mules on the farms and in the cities during the past twenty years has been diverted to hog feeding. This chart indicates the necessity for an adjustment in corn production, at least sufficient to correspond with any reduction in hog numbers. A substantial reduction in corn—the main feed supply for hogs — will help bring the supply of hogs into better balance with effective demand and it will help raise the purchasing power of corn. If corn production is not reduced by an amount sufficient to compensate for the reduction in hogs, corn supplies available for other purposes will increase substantially; corn prices will decline with respect to other livestock, and eventually production of more livestock will be stimulated to higher and less profitable levels. But the Agricultural Adjustment Act seeks a net reduction in agricultural production, not a shift. Acreage of corn, therefore, is the important key to the corn-hog production problem. The sound solution is to scale down the production of both corn and hogs.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Your Correspondent Reminisces on Some of the Outstanding Sports Events of the Last Year

These people flashed into fame in the sports firmament during 1933. Frank X. Shields (1) is America's new No. 1 ranking tenniseer; Helen Jacobs (2) vanquished Helen Wills Moody for the title; Barney Ross (3) and Primo Carnera (4) are on top of the heap in the ring game, and Louis Meyer (5) won the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race.

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE sports year of 1933 passes in review—

The high spot of the track season was the copping of the I.C.A.A.A. title by Southern California. Two records were smashed: John Lyman of Stanford heaved the shot 52 feet 8½ inches; and George Spitz of N.Y.U., high-jumped 6 feet 6⅛ inches.

The National Collegiate A. A. track and field championships were annexed by Louisiana State University, after a spirited tussle with U.S.C. Four world records were blasted in this meet: Indiana's Charley Hornbostle won the 880 in 1:50.9; Glen Hardin of L. S. U. won the 220 low hurdles in :22.9; Jack Torrance, also of L.S.U., heaved the 16-pound shot 52 feet 10 inches; and Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette sprinted over the 220 course in :20.4.

Three fighters dominated the roped arena in 1933. Primo Carnera beat Jack Sharkey for the heavy title; Max Baer defeated Max Schmeling for a crack at Da Preem; Barney Ross took Tony Canzoneri's lightweight crown from him and successfully defended it in a return go.

The New York Giants, with Pitcher Carl Hubbell the big noise, defeated the Washington Senators to cop the world series in baseball.

Highlights of the turf: Broker's Tip won the Kentucky Derby; Head Play ditto in the Preakness; Mr. Khayyam took the American Derby; Mary Reynolds triumphed in the Hambletonian trotting stakes; and Singing Wood sang the paean of victory at the Belmont Futurity.

Louis Meyer won the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

In tennis, the American forces bowed to the Englishers, who went on to take over the French and the Davis Cup. Ellsworth Vines, America's No. 1 player, slumped terrifically; and Frank Shields, New Yorker, flashed to the front to get the No. 1 ranking position for 1934.

Uncle Sam's women racqueteers, however, fared better. The U. S. Wightman Cup squad beat the British for the cup; and Helen Jacobs and Helen Wills Moody clashed, with the former winning on default.

In golf Johnny Goodman, Omaha amateur, won the National Open; George Dunlap won the National Amateur; Denny Shute captured the British Open; the U. S. Ryder Cup team lost to the British; Virginia Van Wie won the Women's Open; and Willie MacFarlane copped the rich Miami-Biltmore tournament.

In football 1933 saw the overthrow of the Notre Dame and Southern California stranglehold. The Irish fared poorly under Coach "Hunk" Anderson, their showing of only three victories resulting in Anderson's ousting and the appointment of Elmer Layden, Duquesne mentor and famed fullback of the 1925 "Four Horsemen," as head coach.

U. S. C. bowed to Stanford, and had a scoreless tie with Oregon State. Stanford's victory resulted in that school's selection as western representative in the Rose Bowl Game New Year's Day. Columbia was chosen eastern representative.

Princeton was the only undefeated, untied major team in the country; while DePauw, at Greencastle, Ind., was the only undefeated, untied and unscored-on school.

Title races resulted as follows:

Big Ten, Michigan; Big Six, Nebraska; Southern, Duke; Southeastern, Alabama; Southwestern, Arizona won, but, due to an ineligible player, the race was called off; Rocky Mountain, three-way tie between Utah, Denver and Colorado Aggies; Pacific Coast, Stanford and Oregon, with four wins and a loss each.

Too Lazy to Move? Try These

Excellent for lazy people are these two recent inventions. The horizontal bike with a backrest, shown above, is just the thing for a six-day bicyclist. And, for duck hunting, what could be nicer for those who hate rowing than the boat shown below, built by Emil Johnson of Salt Lake City? An airplane propeller furnishes the motive power; and rubber-tired wheels, shown above in a raised position, are lowered for use on land.

Toast the New Year in Proper Style

REPEAL BRINGS ADDITIONS TO MILADY'S WARDROBE—THE COCKTAIL DRESS AND RESTAURANT SUIT

The skirt of the restaurant suit at left is of black broadcloth; the blouse of Chinese red satin. Below, a perfect cocktail costume combines a gray velveteen blouse with a straight black crepe skirt.

BY HARRIET

REPEAL fashions deserve adequate consideration this New Year. With the advent of cocktail parties and more elegant dining, it's only natural that there should be changes in the style mode.

Nowadays a lady can't go to dinner in a swanky restaurant wearing just any little sports frock. Our new leisure demands wardrobes well stocked with clothes which are more glamorous than those which we've been wearing.

Every girl needs at least one cocktail dress—whether or not she, herself, indulges. There will be invitations to cocktail parties, teas and informal afternoon gatherings and, of course, being dressed appropriately is part of the fun of any one of those occasions.

Cocktail dresses vary in length. Some are street length, depending on intricate details and glittery touches to make them different from the usual street dresses. Others are about three inches above the ankle and some cover the ankles completely.

If your afternoon invitations are quite informal and you hate to wear trailing frocks on the street, get something of street length.

Plain silk or velvet skirts and formal shirtwaists of lame, exquisite satin, and various novelty crepes make ideal cocktail frocks.

Restaurant clothes for informal dining take the forms of suits and separate dresses. Most of them are quite long—don't get one that is exactly street length, but, on the other hand, you don't have to buy one which touches the floor.

Restaurant suits have skirts and either short or three-quarters coats to be worn with fancy blouses. A satin blouse with short sleeves is festive and, if you really love glitter, take a look at sequin shirtwaists in silver or gold.

ONE grand restaurant suit of black broadcloth has a straight skirt, just-above-ankle-length, and a three-quarters coat with flaring collar of Persian lamb.

The blouse is Chinese red satin with a high cowl neckline and circular flounces on the armholes.

The kidskin pumps have inserts which shade from light yellow to orange. The feathered turban which duplicates the yellow-orange tones is just as flattering as can be.

A perfect cocktail hour costume combines a gray velveteen blouse with a straight black crepe skirt. A red panne velvet belt marks the normal waistline.

The neck of the blouse shows individual detail. The narrow, flaring collar turns up all the way around the neck, giving a high neckline effect and at the same time being low enough to look soft and feminine.

The sandals of black kidskin are cut-out on the toes.

J. B. Elliston Collects Fees Palo Duro Park

A charge of 35 cents per car is being collected for entrance to the road into the Palo Duro State Park by order of D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Parks Board. J. B. Elliston has been appointed by Mr. Colp to collect this fee. The first collection was made Sunday and will continue every day that the park road is opened.

Twenty percent of the 35 cent assement will go to pay out the indebtedness of the park and eighty per cent will be spent for improvements.

S. O. Miller, superintendent of the Park, returned Sunday from Austin where he conferred with Mr. Colp regarding projects at the Park, and it is likely that crushed rock will be added to the roadbed within a short time.

W. F. Ayres arrived here last week from Stephenville to become Mr. Miller's assistant. He is a road construction engineer, and will have charge of construction details. He is planning additional roads in the bottom of the canyon, and has surveys laid out taking the roads past the old T-Anchor dug-out as well as the Goodnight original dug-out, both of which will be restored.

All four companies at the Park will be recruited to full strength after the first of January, which will give more men for actual construction work.

Review of 1933 News Shows President Dominated Nation's Front Pages

A REVIEW of 1933's news events reveals that President Roosevelt played the most prominent part of any individual in the nation's headlines during the last 12 months.

A month before his inauguration, an assassin's bullets narrowly missed him, fatally wounding Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago.

For many weeks after his inauguration, the president's relief measures monopolized the front pages. In rapid succession came his economy, farm relief-inflation, reforestation, gold hoarding, Muscle Shoals, and $500,000,000 states' aid bills. Climaxing them was the national recovery program; a huge non-profit corporation set up for relief purposes; and his radical gold-buying plan. He effected Russian recognition and repealed prohibition.

Aside from Roosevelt news, John Citizen raised his eyebrows over these events: Ratification of the "lame duck" amendment; granting of Philippine independence; election of Edward J. Kelly and Fiorello La Guardia as mayors, respectively, of Chicago and New York; marriage of urbane Jimmy Walker to Betty Compton; U. S. desertion of the gold standard; sporadic midwest farm strikes; J. P. Morgan's "no income tax" revelation; opening of the Chicago Century of Progress; marriage of Elliott Roosevelt and Ruth Googins; the Chicago Wynekoop "operating table" murder mystery; the San Jose, Calif., kidnaping of Brooke Hart, and the lynching of his slayers.

As a topic of conversation and headline-provider, the weather was unusually important this year. Violent windstorms and tornadoes which swept the Atlantic coast and ripped through Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Kentucky brought great property damage and loss of life.

A terrific September hurricane swept from Cuba across Florida and Texas, finally to bring devastation to Tampico, Mexico. A million-dollar flood swept Denver in August.

Other catastrophes: A Chinese earthquake in February is reported to have killed 70,000; a German gas blast killed 100, injured 1000; a Binghamton, N. Y., train wreck killed 23, injured 100. A Los Angeles brush fire burned 23 men to death. One hundred forty died, and 5000 were injured, when a severe quake rocked southern California. The airship Akron crashed off the New Jersey coast, carrying 73 men beneath the waves.

Above, men who figured prominently in 1933 news.

In the field of aviation, much happened during 1933. Roscoe Turner set a new coast-to-coast mark; Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh started their Arctic flight; Balbo's Italian air armada visited the World Fair; Wiley Post set a world flight record; Rossi and Codos, French flyers, landed in Syria for a distance record of 5713 miles; and Settle's balloon set an official stratosphere flight mark of 62,237 feet.

Big news abroad was: The rise of Adolph Hitler to dictator of Germany; oppression of Jews by the Nazis; France's default on her war debts to the United States; a series of Cuban revolts which overthrew the regimes of Machado and De Cespedes, and brought death to hundreds; withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations and the arms conference.

Death claimed the following notables: Ex-President Calvin Coolidge, James J. Corbett, Senator Thomas Walsh, Actor Ernest Torrence, "Iron Duke" William Muldoon, Publisher Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Comedian "Fatty" Arbuckle, Author Ring Lardner, William "Young" Stribling, Actress Renee Adoree, Texas Guinan, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Banker Richard B. Mellon, and Coach "Bill" Roper.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

OUR BEST WISHES

Although the past year has not yielded an abundance of prosperity, it has taught us that there are values which contributes more or at least as much to our happiness and well-being as financial abundance. The experiences of this past year have made us more charitable toward our brothers; they have given us more appreciation of each other's efforts, and they have made us more co-operative with each other. Indeed some of us are learning that riches is not the greatest thing in the world.

With these lessons embedded in the souls of all of us, we have the foundation for greater achievements as a people than ever before. May the lessons that you individually have learned, yield abundant returns in the way of harmonious, happy living during the year 1934.

quainted with the officers and men in the CCC camps.

Colonel Coppock's war decorations include the Silver Star citation with Palm, the Purple Heart Wound Chevron, and both the Expert Rifleman and Expert Pistol Shot medals. He was wounded in the Philippines, and picked up a victim of gas in the campaign of the Argonne Woods.

Colonel Coppock has served in three branches of the army, the infantry, the artillery and the cavalry. During the World War he was an infantry officer in the First Division.

The importance of the Palo Duro Park is further impressed upon the citizens by the fact that an officer of such high rank is assigned to this work.

This is the largest CCC organization in the United States, as in no other instance has four companies located on the same project.

A meeting of the Palo Duro workers was held Thursday at the Recreation Hall at which time Colonel Coppock spoke briefly of the Palo Duro Park construction project.

"This is a most unique and unusual project, a thing of picturesque beauty, long neglected. This project has been initiated and will be carried on by veterans of the World War, who have always held as their watchword, "service," declared Col. Coppock.

He stated that he was at the Palo Duro Camps as a co-ordinator and promoter of welfare of the men, to see that they received proper attention and rendered a proper amount of service. His plea to the members of the camps was for a restoration of faith and confidence in themselves.

"When we build let us think that we build for ever, not merely for today," was his closing remark.

It was announced that in the near future an educational movement would be inaugurated in the CCC camps for the purpose of giving the men vocational training through competent instructors in night classes.

After a year he was transferred to the Plainview office, where he spent one year, and then joined the Texas Utilities Company, and was returned to Canyon. He has been in this position for the past six years.

Mr. Bryant has been very active as a civic worker in the city. He has served in all of the welfare committees of the city, and gave freely of his time and means in any capacity that he felt was accomplishing something good for the community.

Surviving is the wife and three daughters, Mrs. Guy Alford, Phyllis Bryant and Thelma Bryant. One brother, Frank Bryant, lives at Centralia, Okla., and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Jackson, lives at Joplin, Mo.

Hill Reviews

to enjoy one of the most beautiful outing places in the Southwest. The Palo Duro Canyon has always been the playground of college students, but its accessibility will now make it a hundred fold more valuable and pleasant.

A happy surprise of 1933, has been the fact that the attendance at the college is 84 students ahead of that at the same date last year. That the institution can hold its own and show a small growth when the tendency throughout the nation is downward is a fine commentary on the spirit of the people of Texas, and the confidence they have in the College.

The College has suffered reverses during 1933, with the death of Coach S. D. Burton standing out as one of the most serious.

Looking to 1934

Asked to what important events the College is looking forward in 1934 administrators mentioned immediately that in this year the institution will celebrate its Twenty-fifth Anniversary, and that a home coming which will bring back thousands of ex-students is in prospect. A great two-day program is already being planned for a week end in the fall. It is expected that visitors will come from every part of Texas and the nation to take part in this giant reunion. The ex-student Association of which T. H. McDonald of Pampa is now president will have a great part in this occasion.

Special courses in the summer school are another thing anticipated in the plans for 1934. A close co-operation with the State Department of Education in its ambition to have a better curriculum for Texas schools, is to have an influence on the summer session program.

Other things mentioned among the objectives of the college for 1934 are a strengthened physical education and recreation program which will reach every man and woman on the campus, and an elevation of standards of work which will make a degree from the West Texas State Teachers College mean more than ever before.

"We are looking forward to the best year in our history," said Dr. Hill hopefully, as he thought back over the 15 years of his presidency.

Cold Wave Hits But No Moisture During Christmas

The thermometer registered 18 degrees above zero Tuesday morning, as the result of a cold wave which swept over the Panhandle Monday. This was the second cold wave in two weeks but the duration of each was for only a few days.

For the eighth year in succession, the Panhandle had a dry Christmas, with not even an indication of moisture this year.

Empty Stocking Crusade Gladdens Hearts of Needy

More than 100 needy children were given a happy Christmas through the philanthropy of Canyon citizens acting in co-operation with the Empty Stocking Crusade sponsored by the Women's Federated Clubs of the city, announced Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, who was in charge of the Crusade.

"The children were amply provided with toys and gifts of all kinds," says Mrs. Dowlen, "and the Women's Federated Clubs wish to thank the many Canyon people who contributed to the success of the enterprise. It is one of the most successful Crusades ever sponsored by the Federation."

The Empty Stocking Crusade is an annual project carried out by the women's clubs to provide toys and gifts for needy children at Christmastime and has been one of the most outstanding of the philanthropic enterprises sponsored in the city in a number of years.

ERROR IN ADVERTISEMENT

An error was made in the advertisement of the City Produce last week when it was stated that Hersey Williams had bought "the business from R. L. Campbell." R. L. Crawford was the name that should have been used. R. L. Campbell continues to own and operate his produce business.

Mrs. K. A. Catto and children, of Plainview, and Miss Almeda Wiley, of Borger, were holiday visitors at the parental John T. Wiley home.

Dairymen Plan Meeting on 9th Of January

The January meeting of the Randall County Dairymen's Association has been postponed from Jan. 2 to Jan. 9.

Directors for the year 1934 will be announced at this meeting. At the last meeting on Dec. 15, M. H. Rockwell was elected president for the coming year. Albert Byars was elected vice president with L. T. Campbell, secretary.

The annual list of cows for the T. B. test will be made up during the latter part of January. Any owner of dairy cows who is not a member of the association may receive the benefits of the testing pool if they will list their cows at the county agent's office between Jan. 15 and 31. This list will not be open to non-members before Jan. 15. The testing will likely be done the week of Feb. 19. The committee will make a deal with a qualified veterinarian about Feb. 1.

C.C.C. CAMP NEWS

By Nugent L. Lowrey
Company 1828

The following poem was written to portray the situation being faced by the World War Veterans at Palo Duro Canyon, in doing their part to defeat the world wide foe called "depression."

ECHOES OF PALO DURO
—By Grace Tolley.

The wind was whistling o'er the plains,
The sun was streaming through the window panes;
The barracks at the canyon's edge were cozy and warm,
And strong enough to weather a storm.

I sat in reverie at a window, in peace and quiet,
Thinking of the men who served here with all their might;
I thought of a time many years ago,
When these same men served harder in strife, and more.

Of the hardships they have spent since
That great peace pact was signed,
And of the great man who has worked to undo a crime.
We thank this great leader whom we know
Is leading these men against our greatest foe.

Our President has provided for a greater peace
For these men who thought their usefulness had ceased.
They are working now, each and every one,
To put their loved ones back under the sun.

Miss Tolley, who is attending school in Canyon, and whose father is Mess Sergeant of Company 1829, deserves praise for her excellent comparison of two great conflicts.

Christmas Day was most enjoyable at the camp, families of CCC men living in Canyon being guests at the turkey dinner, and plenty of nuts, candies and fruits adding to the feast.

Men began returning on Tuesday from Christmas leaves of absence, and others will leave on Friday night for New Year visits with their families.

Another recruiting service will begin January 1st and extend over a period of ten days throughout the State, in order to build CCC camps up to the desired quotas. At Palo Duro, each of the four companies is down to 140 men, and it is the plan to build each up to a strength of 206 by January 10th or 15th.

Colonel Edward R. Coppock, the new Camp Commander, assumed his new post with a general camp inspection last Saturday.
